FRAMING PICTURES

At the Least Possible Cost.

The most decided economy often results from an investment that has all the appearance of extravagance. We've spent money liberally in bringing the facilities of this picture-framing department up to their present efficiency, but it comes back to us and in turn benefits you decidedly in the smaller prices made possible.

Moldings are snipped off with mathematical precision by the strong jaws of a steel machine; oval and circle mats are cut smoothly and perfectly by means of another invention that does twenty times what a skillful man could accomplish and does it better. Then we tint, gild and finish our own idings, a method that enables us to arrive at any desired result in the most economical manner.

And it is all done quickly. If need be, you may bring in a picture, select a molding, and, after you have perhaps finished other necessary shopping, turn and your picture is ready. 821 styles of molding await your choice. Any finish and any size from one-eighth of ar, inch to six inches, The cost of a frame complete, fitted out with everything ready for hanging, 40c, $40, or any an.ount between-just as you

ADJ. GEN. GORE'S REPORT

HE TELLS THE GOVERNOR OF THE PAST YEAR'S WORK.

The Reorganization of the Nationa Guard-Other Matters of Interest.

The annual report of Adjutant Genera Gore, which includes the report of Quar termaster General Richardson, for the fis cal year ending Oct. 31, 1900, was filed with Governor Mount yesterday afternoon. The appropriation for the militia, which includes the running expenses of the of ices of both Adjutant General Gore an Quartermaster General Richardson, was $45,000, all of which was expended.

The report states that at the beginning of the year the Indiana National Guard consisted of eleven companies of infantry and two batteries of artillery. Since tha time companies have been organized at the following places: New Castle, Muncle Monticello, Lebanon, Auburn, Rochester Bloomington, Crawfordsville, Greencastle Union City, Tipton, Elkhart, Lagrange Danville, Washington, Columbia City Franklin, Winchester, Fort Wayne, Green field and three companies in Indianapolis A battery of artillery has also been organ ized at Fort Wayne. These companies hav been organized into battalions and regi

The camp of instruction, held at Fairvier Park, July 23-28, the report states, was th most successful ever held in the State.

More certificates of service have been i sued to soldiers of the civil war than i any previous year of Governor Mount administration, and a large number have Warrick 2828 2540 92 22 ... 10 3 also been issued to the soldiers of the Spanish-American war who had, unfortunately, lost their original discharge papers. Of the $40,000 appropriated by the Sixtyfirst General Assembly for the reimbursement of the Indiana soldiers in the Spanish-American war on account of clothing, etc., issued to them by the State, $30,185.25 was used for the purpose specified and the balance, $9,814.75, reverted to the general fund on Jan. 1, 1900, as required by the act. Many Indiana soldiers of the last war were transferred to the other organizations and for that reason were unintentionally left off the muster-out rolls, and were not paid. In his report General Gore suggests that the Sixty-second General Assembly be recommended to make an appropriation sufficient to pay all other claims of this character. The present appropriation of the Indiana National Guard. he says, is entirely inadequate, and should be increased to $75,000.

General Gore also recommends that future camps of instruction be held on ground owned by the State, or that the state purchase a suitable piece of ground for the purpose.

The Wages of Firemen. The adjusting board of firemen on the Big Four met yesterday to canvass the situation and prepare a wage scale to be submitted to the officials of the Big Four system. It is said they will demand a restoration of the scale of 1893, when a 10 per cent. reduction was made. Last year they were advanced 5 per cent., and it is stated they were promised that the remaining 5 per cent. would be given them. The scale asked 2 cents a mile for passenger engines, 2.4 cents a mile for through freight engines nd 2 cents a mile for local freight engines.
The board thinks the demands will be ranted and anticipates no strike.

PKINLEY CARRIED THE STATE OF INDIANA BY THAT VOTE.

The Tabulation of the Official Vote on Electors Completed in This City.

ELECTION MARSHALS

THIRTEEN DISTRICTS.

District Electors Is Also

The tabulation of the official vote for the presidential electors of the State of Indiana was completed last night at midnight. The totals give McKinley an official plurality in the State of 26,479 and a majority over all of 8,032. The count reveals the fact that although the Australian ballot system has been in effect in the State for several years there were 7,690 voters who do not know how to mark their tickets, that number of voters having placed their marks in front of the first elector under the happy delusion, no doubt, that they were voting a straight ticket. The Democratic ticket was a greater loser in this respect than the Republican, there being 4,464 voters who placed their mark in front of the first elector on the Democratic ticket and only 3,226 who made the same mistake in marking the Republican

The fact that only 254 votes were cast for the Union Reform ticket in the State leads A Word IN Season one to inquire as to what became of the remainder of the five hundred signers of the petition necessary to gain the ticket a place on the ballot. With the exception of the vote on electors at large the pluralities of the McKinley electors did not vary very much. In some instances the vote shows that one elector would have a few more votes in one county than the others, but this advantage was usually offset in some other counties, and the totals are very near together.

McKinley's plurality in the State was 1,316 greater than Durbin's, whose official plurality was 25,163.

The work of tabulating the official returns occupied the force in the secretary of state's office the entire day and up to midnight last night. The returns were brought in yesterday morning by the thirteen election marshals of Indiana, who reported at the office of the secretary of state between 9 and 11 o'clock a. m. The returns were then counted by the secretary of state and the marshals, in the presence of Governor Mount, and the more arduous work of tabulation was then commenced by the force in the employ of the secretary of state. Governor Mount will issue certificates of election to the fifteen Republican electors at once. The vote on the first elector at large by counties follows:

EX-GOV. W. S. TAYLOR, OF KEN-TUCKY, TO PUT OUT A SHINGLE.

He Has Given Up His Connection with an Insurance Company-Record in the Law.

Ex-Governor W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky, will take up the practice of law in Indianapolis. He expects to begin active practice about the first of the year. He has not yet decided where he will have his office or whether he will be alone in the work. Mr. Taylor has taken apartments in the Vendome flats, at 505 North Delaware street, and expects Mrs. Taylor and the children here in a few days. As soon as the family arrives they will settle down to housekeeping for the winter.

"For the present," said Mr. Taylor last night, "I shall make my home in Indianapolis. There seems nothing else for me to do. My highest hope is that the time may ultimately come when I can have a fair and impartial trial in a nonpartisan court. I know that such a trial is impossible at this time."

Several months ago the announcement was made that Mr. Taylor had arranged to become the general manager of a New York insurance company, with headquarters in Indiana. The matter was considered for a time by Mr. Taylor, but it is announced that he will not be identified with the company. He took an active part in the last campaign and made many friends over the State. Those who know of Mr. Taylor's record as a lawyer say he has always had excellent success. He was for four years attorney general for the State of Kentucky and during that time, his friends say, he did not lose one important case. He was successful while attorney general for Kentucky in breaking up lotteries in the State. He made an argument in one of these cases before the United States Supreme Court against John G. Carlisle, one of the counsel for the de fendants. It is said that at the conclusion of his argument, Mr. Carlisle, turning to his co-counsel, said; "We are going to lose the case. That's the clearest presentation of the lottery cases I have yet heard." Mr. Taylor was elected attorney general in 1895. Prior to that time he had served as clerk of Butler county, Kentucky, where he was born, and afterward as judge of the court of that county. He was the first Republican ever elected clerk of the county. Charles Finley, ex-secretary of state, of Kentucky, who is also in Indiana for an indefinite stay, is undecided as to his plans, but may revive his newspaper, the Rough Rider, about the first of the year. He published this paper in Portland. Ind., discontinuing publication at the close of the campaign. He said last night that he and Mr. Taylor felt very grateful to the people of this city and State for the hospitality extended to them.

FAILURE OF AMENDMENTS.

Governor Mount Holds that They Did Not Carry.

After an investigation of the official vote on the amendments, voted for at the last election, and the constitutional provisions relating thereto, Governor Mount declared, yesterday, that both amendments had failed to carry.

In rendering his decision in the matter Governor Mount said that the Constitution of the State of Indiana plainly provides that amendments to the Constitution must be submitted to the people, and that they must receive a majority of the votes. Not having received such a majority, the Governer said it was clear that both amendments had failed to carry. The first amendment sought to make it constitutional to increase the number of Supreme Court judges above five-the present number-and the second amendment sought to make it constitutional for the Legislature to enact a law fixing the requirements of lawyers for admission to the

It is believed that the question will be carried to the Supreme Court for a final decision and it is almost universally hoped that Governor Mount's opinion in the matter will be reversed.

CHARLES H. HOYT'S WILL

E. M. Dasher, of This City, one of the Beneficiaries.

The will of Charles H. Hoyt, the playwright, was filed yesterday in the surrogate's office, in New York. It was executed Oct. 15, 1898, and one of the beneficiarles is E. M. Dasher, of this city; a business associate. After making bequests to personal friends and employes, the testator says: "It is my wish that the theatrical business of Hoyt & McKee be continued and conducted solely by Frank Mc-Kee, as it is now managed, the said Frank McKee to receive all of my share of the profits thereof as a recompense for his services, excepting such portion as is hereinbefore bequeathed to Elwood M. Dasher. On the death of said Frank McKee the said business shall cease." Residuary legatces are the Lambs' Club, of New York, and the Actors' Fund.

"In making this, my will, at the present time," the will concludes, "I have no relatives nearer than cousins to be considered by me, and my cousins and distant relatives have never shown by any act any desire for my friendship or good will; hence I have deemed it more consistent with fair dealings and justice to dispose of my prop erty to those who, during my life, have been my constant companions and well-wishers, and to such charities as, in my judgment, are most fitting."

For the Council to get rid of Higgins it will neither be necessary for him to resign nor be expelled. By a law passed by the last General Assembly a vacancy occurred when Higgins was convicted by the jury. The law referred to is as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, that an additional section be and is hereby added to the act approved March 8, 1897, entitled 'an act providing for the impeach-ment and removal from office of public officers,' which section shall be as follows, "Sec. 37. In case any state, county, township, municipal or other public officer shall be convicted of felony, the office held by such officer shall be vacated by such judgment of conviction, and the vacancy existing therein shall be immediately filled by appointment as provided by law: Provided, that in case of appeal to the Appellate or Supreme courts such office shall not be vacated pending such Leppert Busy with Litigation.

Lorenz Leppert, who has a saloon at 444 East Washington street, who brought into Justice Smock's court on charge of conversion of money belonging to Jacob Schissier, was tried yesterday for selling liquor without license. He had already been fined for selling liquor on Sunday and for desecration of the Sabbath, and there is another case in which he is charged with a violation of Section 3 of the Nicholson law awaiting trial. The evidence at the trial yesterday showed that John Geis, an employe of the Indianapolis Brewing Company, had taken out the county and city licenses for the saloon conducted by Leppert, but Leppert had taken out the government license. The arguments in the case were postponed until Wednesday.
